EDUCATION JOURNEY

i started in the Information technology (IT) and computer science as a hobby, at early age in my 12yo i start exploring this technologies, playing around and trying everything until my 18 i have started my career as UI/UX Designer and Developer,

Solving problems using Art and Code is the most interested thing to me, and after gaining an experience from some real-work by trying, making mistakes and learning, i have studded the field academically after a while of working for self-development and leveling up my knowledge in my career, in this page you can find how and what i learned in my journey.

FROM 2007 TO 2013

Geek from Old-School

from 2007 to 2013 i have earned my expertise in graphic design and basic front-end through learning from multiple online communities and to name a few for the geeks out there : Trident, Damas Gate, Animeat, IDEAL Designer, W3Schools, CSS Tricks, Smash Magazine, Tuts+

FROM 2013 TO 2017

UI/UX Developer

from 2013 to 2017 my focus was on learning and mastering the Front-End technologies and UI/UX Philosophies by following up online resources, and case studies, researches from multiple open-source initiatives while working and improving real projects with real clients and users.

FROM 2015 TO 2020

CS50 - 2015 Class

in 2015 i have learned the academic fundamental of Computer Science from online course on computer science taught from Harvard University and Yale University and kept following this class every year since just for refreshing my standards, and keep my informations up to date

FROM 2017 TO PRESENT

Academic Design Principles and Strategies

from 2017 i focused on learning what i already know from real experience in UI/UX and Product Design principles and strategies, and how it affect the human psychology to create and design good experience without overwhelming the user and making him think too much.

PROJECTS PORTFOLIO

as said before i have worked with many companies on hundreds of projects in more then 10y and its hard to pik a favorite, a father always loves his children's equally, but here is a quick sample of my works, and you can preview the full-project by clicking on its name
